

Announcing the IgA Nephropathy Foundation's NEW Ambassador Program!

Harnessing the power of the IgA Nephropathy community to support, inspire, engage, and activate patients and caregivers, near and far.

What?

Our Ambassador Program will bring together and train a select group of “expert” volunteer leaders to extend the Foundation’s voice and geographic reach.

Ambassadors will be prepared to:

Share their stories to inspire and give hope to others

Raise awareness of
IgA Nephropathy

Educate and engage others, including nephrology care providers

Provide peer support and vetted tools and resources

Empower patients to advocate for themselves and for better treatments

The Ambassador Program will ultimately help build local IgA Nephropathy peer networks, reaching patients and caregivers earlier in their journey and carrying the heart and the mission of the Foundation forward. The program is set to formally launch in late 2022 when our first cadre of volunteer leaders convene for a one-day kick off and training.

The training will equip Ambassadors with key skills, How-to resources and template materials centered around four core focus areas:

Peer support

Awareness & education

Community outreach & partnerships

Patient empowerment
& advocacy

Why?

IgA Nephropathy remains poorly understood – even by many clinicians. Patient can face long delays before getting to the right diagnosis and may not know their treatment options or what to expect at different stages. It's easy to feel alone and isolated. We are set to change this!

Who?

Anyone affected by IgA Nephropathy – especially patients or a parent who cares for a child with the condition – who has the passion and time to make a difference.
